

LABRADOR RETRIEVER CLUB of the Potomac NEWSLETTER

AUGUST, 1973

LABRADOR SPECIALITY September 8

THE CLUB GETS STARTED

The Labrador Retriever Club of the Potomac, begun Saturday, May 19, 1973, was not a spur of the moment venture. Our first effort, a fun match and obedience trial held on the property of John and Sandra Kelly, was the result of many discussions on the part of many different people over a period of years. Connie Barton broached the idea to me at the Tidewater Show in either '65 or '66. Subsequently Liz Clark, Dave McCurley, the late Dr. John S. Gordon, Ted Squires, Joan Reed, Helen Biggs, Joan Clarke and many others have argued to this purpose.

Freshness Two more recent events, however, directly triggered the gathering on ~~Derby Day~~, 1973. They were receipt of a letter from the Labrador Club, Inc. to Liz Clark indicating the Club's inability to extend its efforts to improve the breed beyond its present activities and, of course, the granting to the Labrador Retriever Club of Southern California a license to hold a Speciality Show and Obedience Trial under AKC rules.

Thus far, we have held two fun matches, a field and fun day and an educational forum with a panel of three distinguished English breeders and judges. In addition, the club has begun a breed newsletter and taken steps to support the two existing Labrador Specialty Shows. Our immediate schedule calls for a breed and obedience speciality match on the 16th of September and a training day on Monday, October 22.

At the present time, the club has established two primary goals:

- 1) Obtaining AKC recognition
- 2) Establishing a strong interrelated program of education and training for show, obedience and field.

We hope that our club will become the focal point for training, education and exchange of views between novice and experienced breeders and exhibitors in our area. We look toward affiliation with other Labrador independent specialty clubs, and we hope to someday affiliate in some manner with the Labrador Retriever Club, Inc., should the parent club one day revise its views toward local specialty clubs.

I believe that we have made a good start, but it is only a start. We must continue to press forward in what we have begun. The Board looks forward to your comments and our progress.

George Bragaw, Pres.

MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

Mr. Leo G. Kinsella selected a lovely yellow bitch, Lownwoods Tarnstar Trust, owned and handled by Janet Churchill, as Best of Breed at LRCP's July 6 fun match at Springfield Farm, Middleburg, Virginia. The Club had the use of Mrs. Clark's lovely estate grounds and her generous hospitality at the pool-side meeting that followed the evening match. A lively and interesting discussion with three distinguished English breeders and judges, Dyana Beckett, and Miriam and Leo Kinsella, followed.

Linda Anderson's 9-12 black male Joallamar's Churchill was Best Puppy. Best Opposite was Sylvia Fisher's black Bravo's Ebony Trooper. Mr. Kinsella had an excellent entry of 53, and his critique will be published in a later edition of the newsletter along with an account of the obedience match, which ably judged by Dick and Virginia Ganett.

Our initial match was judged by Ted Squires, who selected Sylvia Fisher's Bravo's Ebony Trooper, C.D.X., as Best of Breed. Trooper was also among the top scorers at the obedience match. Best of Opposite Sex was Janet Churchill's black bitch Spenrock Boomerang. Pest Puppy went to Beth Sweigart's black bitch Bravo's Pandora of Yarrow. There was a total entry of 87 at the match held in Potomac, Md. This represented 74 dogs, with 54 entries in breed and a pleasingly large 33 entries in obedience.

The Isaac Walton League grounds in Rockville, Md., were the site for the field training and fun day, Saturday, August 4. Barbara Starkey and Sylvia Fisher ran the split sessions. The morning field workshop was aided immensely by Bryan McCreesh, President of the Maryland Retriever Club, his wife Carolyn and Ted Catchings, who shepherded three groups: puppies, beginners and intermediate. Ted's stylish worker, Joy, started the day by showing how a good retriever should take a land-water couple and an over-the-hill blind retrieve. Special thanks go to Joe May for providing us with hard-to-get pigeons for use in the field training.

Thirty-one people entered 45 dogs in LRCP's first field training session. Everyone agreed that Barbara and her people did a tremendous job.

After lunch Sylvia set up a full obedience demonstration. All classes of obedience work were represented: sub-novice, novice, open and utility. Just to show we are not prejudiced, Nat Horn demonstrated tracking with his Chesapeake Bay, Ch. Easter Waters Thunderchief, C.D., T.D.

Dr. Dan Horn of the Eastern Waters prefix and thus father to both Nat and Thunderchief, teamed with Cathy-Lou Bragaw in a show handling class which topped the day.

This first issue of the Labrador Club of the Potomac's newsletter is necessarily devoted to material which must be distributed to members promptly. The size of the four yearly issues will depend largely upon the amount of money available and the cost of printing and mailing. If any member has any special knowledge and experience or connections which will cut the cost of production please let the editors know.

More importantly, however, the size and content of this publication will depend upon what you, the members, want to see in it and contribute to it. None of us would have joined this club unless we had a serious interest in Labradors, but this interest may take a number of forms. I hope, therefore, that news items will be submitted which reflect all of the interests of the members--field trials, conformation, obedience and breeding, for example. Other subjects may also be of interest. New or proposed legislation affecting dog ownership or the hunting of waterfowl in our area would be an example. A regular feature will, of course, be a schedule of Club events for the next quarter.

I hope that the newsletter will reflect the interests of its readers in sufficient depth and variety so that it will be informative and useful. To achieve this goal the editors will need the suggestions and contributions of the members in time to be included in the following issue. The next newsletter will go to the printer in mid-November. Items to be included should reach the editors by November 1 at the addresses given below.
